Business Evolution MASTERCLASSES

Ser.

Overview

Business Evolution Teaches You Innovation – for Free

What Is Innovation?

Innovation is the process of introducing new solutions to your business.

Solutions can be products, platforms, processes, services, technologies, experiences, and brands.

How Does Innovation Help You?

Innovation helps business leaders:

- Grow revenue by identifying untapped markets and creating new solutions. E.G.: Amazon created the cloud computing category by launching AWS.
- Decrease operating costs through automation, continuous improvement, supply chain optimization, and efficient resource use. E.G.: Toyota reduced waste and costs with lean manufacturing and just-in-time inventory.
- Delight customers by improving customer service, anticipating needs, and personalizing experiences. E.G.: Netflix keeps users engaged with AI-based content recommendations, increasing engagement and reducing churn.
- Mitigate risks by proactively identifying and addressing potential threats. E.G.: Siemens uses AI-powered sensors to predict maintenance and prevent failure.
- Empower teams to increase productivity by automating tasks while accelerating creativity. E.G.: Google's innovation policy led to the creation of two of their most popular products: Gmail and AdSense.
- Attract investors. Investors prefer innovators. E.G.: The most innovative companies are consistently the most valuable companies: Alphabet (Google), Amazon, Apple, Meta (Facebook), and Microsoft.

DEFINING THE M&A SPECTRUM

Two main classifications of the M&A spectrum are Horizontal Mergers and Vertical Mergers

Horizontal Merger

- → Definition: merger between two firms operating in the same space, as competition is higher and potentials for gains in market share are much greater.
- → Historically: Horizontal M&A purpose was typically to subsume a direct competitor, increase market share, and achieve economies of scale by decreasing average cost.
- → Recently: Large companies acquiring startups that have built significant and fast-growing user bases (example: Facebook acquiring Instagram)

Vertical Merger

- → Definition: Vertical integration to transform businesses to improve the efficiency of the firm's value chain. Provides firms with more control of supply chain, production, and distribution.
- → Historically: Vertical mergers have been a mean to controlling the market by acquiring a vendor or supplier. This increases profits by increasing profits by controlling costs and product availability.
- → Recently: Retailers are using acquisitions to quickly gain access to the whole value chain, including supply, fulfillment, ecommerce, and physical stores. (example: Target's acquisition of Shipt to add the gig economy delivery service to existing operations.

THE SEARCH FOR SYNERGY

Two main types of synergy arise from M&As, Revenue and Cost. Revenue arises when the combined company generates more sales than the two separately. Cost synergy is when the combined company can reduce average costs to a greater extent due to economy of scale.

Example: Deloitte. immediately focuses on synergies as part of their M&A operational plan:

- 1. Pursue low-hanging fruit
  - → Align around cross-selling and channels
  - → Enforce efficient decision making on goals, being mindful
  - $\rightarrow$  of operating model implications

2. Cast a wide net

- → Pursue multiple types of synergy initiatives to increase chances of success
- → Lead change management activities across both organizations
- → Enlist partners, clients, and other key stakeholders in guiding and informing key decisions

- 3. Lead with innovation
  - → Invest in growth opportunities with long-term potential
  - → Balance near-term and long-term synergy initiatives
  - → Lay the foundation for go-to-market transformation

4. Dig into the data details

- → Use quality data to drive analyticsdriven insights
- → Establish and empower a dedicated integration team
- → Budget for success and incentivize teams

5. Plan the work; work the plan

- → Plan for pre-close synergy and clean room (or data room) activities
- → Activate integration teams with commercial analytics capabilities
- → Remain focused on targets

M&A: THE RISKS AND HURDLES

Mergers breed uncertainty within an organization. However, these risks and hurdles can be mitigated:

Risks and Hurdles

- ? Office Locations
- ? Job Titles and Roles
- ? Reward Systems
- ? Organizational structure
- ? Culture and Values
- ? Continuing working with colleagues
- ? No clear expectations

Vertical Merger

- ✓ Announce key decisions early to employees
- ✓ Define new goals of the organization to obtain stakeholder buy-in to collaborate from the outset
- ✓ Ensure new goals do not require major changes in organizational thinking
- Prepare staff for next steps through culture surveys and change ready assessments
- Demonstrate how merger will look to allow staff to envision their roles and prepare to manage day-to-day activities after the merger
- Identify key indicators and benchmarks where improvements are expected
- ✓ Track metrics to show the success of the merger

USE METRICS FOR A REALISTIC PICTURE OF DEALS

Clearly define goals before deciding the metrics to use to measure merger success. PwC suggests the following KPI to track:

USE METRICS FOR A REALISTIC PICTURE OF DEALS

Establishing metrics and key indicators to assess the value of entering into a deal will help mitigate risk and facilitate communication with shareholders:

- $\rightarrow$  Is target firm's performance better than market average? Look at:
  - YoY growth rate for last 3 years
  - YoY projections for next 3 years
- $\rightarrow\,$  Assess market context: Explosive growth in a hot market may not be impressive

- → Benchmark employee sales vs cost ratio against industry average to see company's performance and potential.
  - Cost of sales per employee and as a percentage of revenue
- $\rightarrow$  Is the company setting essential, and meeting Service Level Agreements for:
  - Targets set for order fulfillment
  - Lead time
  - Costs justified? Are SLAs an advantage?

WHEN TO BUY INSTEAD OF BUILD: TECH ACQUISITIONS AND ACQUIHIRES

Challenges of Tech Deals

The tech sector is characterized by small companies with high valuations, and the decision to acquire is a difficult one. Acquiring firms need to:

- $\rightarrow$  Gauge the value creation potential
- → Know how best to integrate a new tech startup so that value is not lost
- → Identify the most promising digital targets from a shortlist

Talent Acquisitions

One type of tech M&A is an "acquihire" - acquisition of human capital for competitive advantage. Acquiring a firm for its talented people does have risk:

- → Acquired talent may leave their new company
- $\rightarrow\,$  To mitigate, the acquiring firm must understand the capabilities and goals of the people involved

3 main metrics for acquihiring:

- $\rightarrow$  Number of employees buyer wants to hire
- → Value of those employees
- $\rightarrow$  Value of IP to the buyer

MANAGING TECH DEALS

Valuation is a key piece of any M&A deal, but for tech deals with startups valuation is difficult. There are other considerations for due diligence:

Product Strategy	Processes, Practices, and Tools	Product Support	Architecture and Code
Does it fit with growth objectives? SWOT How is product roadmap determined?	<ul> <li>→ Opportunity for efficiency gains or cost reduction?</li> <li>→ Will practices scale with growth?</li> <li>→ Any existing skills gaps?</li> </ul>	<ul> <li>→ What are support call generators that may indicate product problems?</li> <li>→ How many escalations make it to development team?</li> </ul>	<ul> <li>→ Will architecture impede growth?</li> <li>→ Cost of legacy tech replacement</li> <li>→ Any legal issues with 3rd party or open-source components?</li> <li>→ Is code written in a maintainable manner?</li> </ul>
Product Function and Quality	IT/Operations/DevOps	Professional Services	People and Organization
Are there problems that will be expensive to fix?	<ul> <li>→ Opportunities for cost reduction?</li> <li>→ Business continuity plan in place?</li> <li>→ Expenditures reasonable?</li> </ul>	<ul> <li>→ Are implementation times long?</li> <li>→ Opportunities for product enhancement, requiring less on service side?</li> </ul>	<ul> <li>→ Are the right people in the right roles especially leadership?</li> <li>→ Who is critical to the business and must be retained?</li> </ul>

AFTER THE DEAL

- → A change management strategy is important to ensure a smooth transition.
- → This should be prepared early in the decision process to ensure the associated costs are considered.
- $\rightarrow$  Cultural integration should also play a key role in any merger.

DIVESTITURE FOR VALUE CREATION

Divestiture is often conducted when a firm is restructuring or experiencing a problem. A better way to approach divestiture is through an ongoing, long-term process, which gives a company time to find the right buyer.

CASE STUDY ON CISCO

CISCO

Overview:

Cisco is a company that has identified growth opportunities through acquisitions and has successfully acquired over 100 companies.

Keys to Success:

- → Cisco defines its growth strategy as one that identifies and drives market transition. The company separates acquisitions into three segments: market acceleration, market expansion, and new market entry.
- → The company focuses on integration by investing in dedicated integration resources across the company.
- → The company seeks acquisitions based on a strong business case but also a shared business and technology vision.

Results:

Cisco acquired more than 100 companies between 1993 and 2016. Five of their biggest deals were OpenDNS ($635 million), Meraki ($1.2 billion), Sourcefire ($2.7 billion), NDS Group ($5 billion), Jasper Technologies ($1.4 billion), and Lancope ($452.5 million).

West's Closing Note to Innovators

For those driven by a passion to make an impact, solve large problems, and reap significant rewards, successfully innovating stands as one of the most exhilarating and fulfilling pursuits. That said, just a friendly reminder:

Knowledge is Power. To empower you, I am sharing the knowledge I have gained from 27+ years of hands-on experience. Please do not stop learning here.

- → Empower yourself with the right knowledge. Do not rely solely on my experience and knowledge. To determine what is right for you, your team, your business, investors, and customers, do your own research. To help, I have curated thousands of links in Business Evolution's Masterclasses. Use this as the foundation for your further research.
- Seek multiple experienced perspectives. Follow relevant experts who share their insights on YouTube, LinkedIn, X, StackOverflow, Reddit, GitHub, or wherever they share their insights. The more you know, the more likely you are to make the right decision.
- Stuck? Get help. Others have solved your problem before. They may have even written about it. You may be able to hire them. Or use a generative AI to brainstorm (I'll show you how). In my experience, the joy of the journey is finding answers, learning and growing.

Innovation takes commitment and requires real time, money, and effort.

INNOVATION IS HIGH RISK

- > Innovation involves real risks. If you fail, you risk your professional reputation, your credibility, your mental health, and your personal wealth.
- → Everyone fails at some point on their journey. But remember, every great success story 🤌 has its chapters of challenges overcome.
- > To reduce the risk of failure, hire experts and use data-driven decision making, customer-obsession, long-term planning, and continuous improvement.
- → When you fail, learn quickly from the lessons, ensure you don't repeat the mistakes, and forge ahead only if you assess it is safe to do so.

Time is our only non-renewable resource. Use yours wisely.

> Please take time for yourself – especially your health and loved ones. It's easy to get lost in innovation's allure and lose track of what truly matters.

"Best Wishes Innovating! I hope the Business Evolution Masterclasses help you on your journey." – West Stringfellow
